THE USE OF ELECTRIC LINES.

An Innovation in the Construction of Culverts-Long Island Improvements - Changes on Southern-Notes.

The contract for the construction of what will be the largest bridge in Madison County, Illinois, was let yesterday, and a St. Louis concern captured the plum. President Baldwin Denies Exaggerated Reports Heretofore Circulated. New York, Nov. 2.-President Baldwin of he Long Island Railroad Company was quoted to-day as follows:

"I wish to emphatically dehy rumors that "I wish to emphatically deay rumors that have been circulated in regard to the improvements which the Pennsylvania road intends to make on Long Island. Most of the rumors have been erroneous in every particular. We have not finished completing and formulating our plans, and any statement as to what they are is premature, to say the least. I wish to deny that the Pennsylvania road has any intention of carrying out the Corbin scheme of having the transatiantic lines land at Montauk Point. Neither does it intend to spend $30,000,000 in improvements, or any amount approaching that sum. The improvements which will be made, as stated by Mr. Cassatt, will be farreaching and add considerably to the bisiness of the Pennsylvania road, but they will be carried out in the conservative, business-jike manner that is characteristic of the matragement of the Pennsylvania road."

Texas Car Shortage Relieved.

Texas Car Shortage Relieved.

BEPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Houston, Tex., Nov. I.—The car famine, which was very pronounced a short time ago, is showing symptoms of easing up now. The conditions that existed at the beginning of the cotton season tended to make the shortage this year more pronounced than usual. The fact that Galveston as a port was practically cosed for several weeks somewhat congested the yards at Houston, and there was a cry of a car famine all ever the State. The port at Galveston is now open, and while there is still a shortage of cars in the lumber districts, conditions have very much improved. The yards in Houston are no longer congested, although cotton is moving just as freely as at any time since the seas a opened.
